"The President of the Republic, Abd-Rabbu Mansour Hadi, invites the Special Envoy for Yemen, Ismail Ould Cheikh Ahmed, to visit Yemen within the next two weeks to discuss the current conflict, and to coordinate efforts to find a political solution to this devastating civil war," the statement published by the Presidency said, according to AP. In what will be his first visit to the country since he received his mandate, Ould Cheikh Ahmed is expected to meet with members of the Yemeni government, as well as with UN special envoy in Yemen Martin Griffiths and the government's and Houthi's side, as well as Hadi's chief minister, the statement read. Hadi's invitation comes after a new UN Security Council resolution reiterating calls for a ceasefire and an end to sieges, which is being implemented within the framework of the UN Yemen peace talks, as well as for a redeployment of troops. The new resolution was unanimously adopted at an emergency meeting of the UN Security Council on Saturday afternoon, after a week-long summer
